WE'LL TAKE CARE OF YOU

Bespoke, cost-effective solutions ensure that your email and transmitted data is confidential, secure, retrievable and legal.

IT'S WHAT WE DO

You could be breaking the law because of the way you handle your electronic mail and data

why

- Legislation has created a complex mandatory framework for dealing with customer and employee information, which includes email and attachments.
- Legislation covers everything from message confidentiality and security to archiving and retrieval – and there are severe penalties for breaches.
- Even a relatively simple legal discovery request can involve companies in considerable time and expense without a fast and efficient email archiving and retrieval system.
- Legislation applies to all companies, but especially those handling sensitive or confidential information such as legal, accountancy, banking and healthcare.
- Aside from legal issues, ordinary non-encrypted email traffic and message archiving can expose firms to damaging and costly problems.

what

- Safeserve's SecureMail and archiving services ensure your email is confidential, secure and easy to retrieve.
- Our service ensures that your internal and external mail complies with EU, US and UK legislation.

how

- Initially, by listening to you and tailoring our system to your individual requirements.
- By offering automated archiving of all incoming and outgoing email.
- Enabling you to control and track all in and outbound messages.
- By keeping abreast of all legislative developments, so you are always compliant.
